

An aerial night photograph of a city harbor. In the foreground, a large building with a distinctive, illuminated, wavy roof stands out. The harbor is filled with water, and several ships, including a large sailing ship, are visible. The city skyline is lit up with various lights, and the sky shows a sunset or sunrise with orange and blue hues.

Theater am Großmarkt

The Theater am Großmarkt is an event location that has everything you need to perfectly stage your event. Fully integrated into the listed Grossmarkthallen, it offers a wide range of options for events of all kinds. Following extensive renovations in 2020, the theater is now not only home to the hit musical Harry Potter and the Enchanted Child, but also an exclusive location for events with special requirements.

With a capacity of up to 1,670 people, the Theater am Großmarkt is a permanent fixture in Hamburg's live entertainment scene - and also the perfect stage for conferences, congresses, product presentations, gala dinners, TV recordings or film shoots.

The newly built theater pavilion is an architectural highlight: designed with high-quality materials such as wood, it creates a stylish and modern atmosphere and expands the location with numerous additional usage options. Together with the imposing theater hall, several foyers and an exclusive lounge, it offers versatile room concepts for events of all sizes.

The offer is complemented by spacious parking areas and ideal delivery options - for events without logistical compromises.
